Ride

Whether parking far and riding in or riding all the way, use the BCycle app to purchase access, find a nearby Red Bike station, check real-time bike/dock availability, and check out a bike.

Dock

BLINK spans 30+ city blocks from Findlay Market through Downtown Cincinnati and into Northern Kentucky, so plan to dock your bike at a Red Bike station before entering the pedestrian festival area. If docking bike inside festival area, dismount and walk your bike to a nearby station immediately upon entering pedestrian area.

Walk

Once you've reached the festival area, return your Red Bike to a station, and enjoy the festival. Do not ride Red Bikes through BLINK's pedestrian area or closed streets. Street closures and large crowds make walking the safest and easiest way to experience the festival.

Planning your ride:

BLINK is intentionally designed to be explored by foot. Blink includes temporary street closures and large pedestrian only areas throughout the festival. Red Bikes are not permitted through closed streets or crowded festival areas. Check Blink's current road closure maps or visit <https://www.instagram.com/cincyredbike/> for updates on Red Bike specific BLINK routes.
